

Google Earth Update

If you happened to be in your yard one day last fall, you might have noticed the Google Earth “street view” camera car drive by. Google updated the street view photographs of East Piney Island and the new pictures are now posted in the Google Earth program.

Search your address or any other EPI address and Google Earth will provide a bird’s eye view of the area. Select “street view” and you can take a virtual walk down the EPI streets as they were frozen in time on that day in October, 2019.

You can also use the EPI addresses from your EPICA Directory to match members with their houses.
